The Case for a Creator Study Guide Revised Edition: Investigating the Scientific Evidence That Points Toward God Lee Strobel, Garry D. Poole

Former journalist and skeptic Lee Strobel has discovered something very interesting about science. Far from being the enemy of faith, science may now provide a solid foundation for believing in God. Has science finally discovered God? Certainly new discoveries in such scientific disciplines as cosmology, cellular biology, astronomy, physics and DNA research are pointing to the incredible complexity of our universe, a complexity best explained by the existence of a Creator. Written by Lee Strobel and Garry Poole, this six-session, 90-minute DVD curriculum comes with a companion participant's guide along with a leader's guide. The kit is based on Strobel's book and documentary The Case for a Creator and invites participants to encounter a diverse and impressive body of new scientific research that supports the belief in God. Weighty and complex evidence is delivered in a compelling conversational style. The six sessions include: 1. Science and God 2. The Negative Evidence Against Evolution 3. The Evidence of Cosmology 4. The Evidence of Fine Tuning 5. The Evidence of Biological Machines 6. The Evidence of Biological Information
